

Wildflower Photo Hunt

As part of the wildflower and weed challenges for the month, allow your child to take a photo of as many of the listed items as possible.

- ◆ They can take the photo or you can take it...whichever works best for your family.
- ◆ Print the photo out and adhere it in the child's nature journal. Allow them to write a caption for the image.
- ◆ Alternate idea: Print all the photos out at one time and make a mini photo album for the child to keep as a remembrance of their wildflower and weed nature study.
- ◆ Include the photo in your blog entry if you would like and then submit the entry to the Outdoor Hour Challenge Blog Carnival.

If you print this page, you can cut the list out and put it into the front of your nature journal as a reminder if you wish. You also may hang the list on the front of your refrigerator as a reminder.

Have fun!
